TEN PAGES—FIVE CENTS

One Dead In Train Wreck, 25 Injured

Streamliner Smashes Into Gravel Truck

MATTOON, Ill. (AP)—A speeding diesel-powered New York Central streamliner plowed into a gravel truck and careened from the rails Monday in a wreck that killed one person and injured 25 others.

The Southwestern Limited's second diesel unit leaped from the tracks and the next nine cars slid on their sides to a screeching, rending halt 200 yards beyond the crossing. The last two cars remained on the tracks.

Windows were smashed but the overturned cars did not splinter. Rescue crews said this undoubtedly saved many lives.

The train, eastbound from St. Louis to New York, hit the truck at Monroe Crossing—a point where the train reaches a speed of 70 miles an hour after a scheduled stop at Mattoon five miles west.

The truck driver, Gary Bryant, 24, of Mattoon, was killed instantly. The derailed cars, snaking down the right of way, sheared off power and telephone poles, dropping live high-tension wires near the wreckage. One line carrying 69,000 volts was stretched by the weight of the poles but fortunately did not snap.

A piece of steel from the truck is believed to have caused the derailment.

Miss Jane Conant, 15, of St. Louis, a passenger who was in the diner, said the train seemed to slow somewhat and then "shake" before the diner left the rails.

"The next thing, my friends and I were thrown against the wall," she said. "Then we were tossed near the door and the car came to a halt at an angle."

The diner was halfway overturned. Food being prepared for the luncheon was scattered through the car.

The wreck occurred at 11:42 a.m. CST five miles east of Mattoon. Mattoon, in central Illinois, is 124 miles east of St. Louis and 128 miles west of Indianapolis.

Railroad officials immediately put in a call for all available ambulances and doctors at Mattoon and in nearby Charleston. The injured were rushed to hospitals in the two cities.

Most of the injured were released after first aid for cuts and bruises. Hours after the wreck, a spokesman at Memorial Hospital said three of the injured would remain overnight. One, A. L. Yantis, Shelbyville, Ill., was described as in serious condition.

J. F. French of Mattoon, the conductor, said 80 persons were on the train.

The train ripped up trackage and roadbed for more than 200 yards. Officials said service would be blocked for 12 hours over the stretch of single track.

The uninjured passengers in the last two cars completed the trip to Indianapolis as part of New York Central's Knickerbocker. This train, which arrived in Mattoon at midway was rerouted over the Illinois Central and Pennsylvania Railroad lines.

State Of Siege Declared In Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (P)—The Chilean government declared a state of siege (modified martial law) throughout most of the country Monday. President Carlos Ibanez said it was evident Communist elements planned to carry out a program of violence.

The government apparently made up its mind to grasp additional powers, despite objections by the opposition in Congress when a group of demonstrators at the northern Chilean copper town of Potrerillos ripped down the Chilean flag this morning, shouting: "We are Communists, not Chileans."

Caches of dynamite were reported found later at the mine, run by a subsidiary of the American-owned Anaconda Copper Mining Co. The Communist party is outlawed in Chile.

Woman In Boat With Husband's Body Is Rescued

TOLEDO, Ohio (P)—A Toledo woman was rescued Monday after two nights of tossing helplessly and alone on Lake Erie in a small boat with the body of her husband who had died of a stroke.

Hysterical and suffering from shock and exposure, Mrs. Iva B. Soncrant, was brought ashore by a fisherman who answered her cries for help after he saw her in the anchored boat about 4½ miles offshore.

She sobbed out to sheriff's deputies the story of how she and her husband, Joseph P. Soncrant, 57, had gone out into the lake in their outboard motor boat at about 4 p.m. Saturday. Soncrant was stricken and died at about 8 o'clock, she said.

Unable to raise the anchor of the small boat or to start the outboard motor, Mrs. Soncrant could do nothing but sit and hope for rescue. None came Saturday evening, and she could only trust that one of the large number of pleasure boaters who frequent the area on a Sunday would find her.

On Sunday, her boat was tossed about by strong winds. In the rough weather, only two craft came close to the Soncrant boat.

Sparkman Named In Connection With FHA Scandal

INDIANAPOLIS (P)—Witnesses at a Senate committee hearing Monday named U. S. Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama as the rumored source of "influence" in Washington for Federal Housing Administration approval of mortgages which gave nearly 2½ million dollars in "windfall" profits to two Alabama promoters.

The surprise naming of the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee came as the Senate Banking Committee headed by Sen. Homer E. Caphart (R-Ind.) opened hearings into operations of Marvin L. Warner and Joseph H. Kanter.

The two men, starting in Birmingham, Ala., in 1947, have built and still own 12 apartment house projects—six in Birmingham, three in Cincinnati, two in St. Louis and one in Indianapolis.

William Simon, committee chief counsel, said Warner and Kanter got the FHA to underwrite mortgages totaling $24,435,932 on the 12 projects. Actual cost of building them, Simon said, was $21,946,861, yielding a windfall profit of $2,471,072.

Sparkman's name was brought into the record of Monday's hearing in testimony by James Swag, former acting evaluator for the Indiana FHA office.

PILOT, 16 CHAPLAINS ESCAPE BEFORE CRASH

NEWHALL, Calif. (P)—The pilot and 16 Air Force chaplains aboard a C-46 transport plane apparently all escaped alive Monday just before the big craft crashed on the Los Angeles City Prison farm and burned.

Lt. Jack Allen, officer in charge of the rehabilitation center for alcoholics, said the pilot, Capt. Thomas E. Wilson, told him he was the last to leave the plane by parachute.

The Air Force reported that all the chaplains parachuted. Lt. Allen said the chaplains were scattered and had not yet all been accounted for. But he said it was believed all came out alive. The chaplains were being assembled at the Newhall farm station.

Lt. Allen said two or three inmates of the farm, which has 500 prisoners, suffered minor injuries.

The government's move was a surprise since labor troubles in the copper fields which have crippled the country's economy for about a month appeared nearing a settlement.

In Washington, diplomatic sources expressed the view Ibanez had decreed the state of siege to get powers for dealing with the strike which the Chilean Congress denied him last week. The Congress, in which Ibanez lacks a majority, ended its regular session Saturday. A state of siege cannot be decreed while Congress is meeting.

Ibanez called the legislators back into extraordinary session beginning Thursday, issuing his emergency decree before they reassembled.

The state of siege applies throughout most of the long, bean-shaped republic, from the important nitrate-mining fields in the north down to the Strait of Magellan.

Within the area affected, the 76-year-old President is authorized to move persons from one province to another and confine individuals under house arrest, but not jail them with common criminals.

The government said it was issuing the decree "because of the danger of a movement aimed at destroying our democratic way of life."

Copper and nitrate are two of the major exports on which this country of 5,885,000 depends for the foreign exchange to buy needed goods abroad. The strikes have brought these exports, much of which go to the United States, to a dangerous low.

In addition to struggling with the copper strike, Ibanez's government has been fighting a continuing battle with Communists, many of whom are known to have infiltrated the General Labor Union. In May Ibanez warned the union leaders to kick from their ranks Red agitators whom he called "destructive fanatics . . . linked with international communism."

Mitchell Accuses AFL Of Unfair Opposition

LOS ANGELES (P)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell Monday accused the American Federation of Labor face to face, of unfair political opposition to the Eisenhower administration.

Mitchell bluntly told delegates to the 10-million-member labor organization's annual convention that the AFL would make more progress in achieving its aims if it were not so unyieldingly critical of the GOP.

President Eisenhower's labor secretary said he agreed with the political philosophy of the AFL's late founder, Samuel Gompers, that labor should "reward its friends and oppose its enemies."

"It is difficult to see, however," Mitchell said, "how that philosophy is being applied when criticism of an administration is all encompassing and takes no note of its intentions or accomplishments . . ."

"In the past 20 months we have accomplished much for the working men and women of America and I can pledge to you that we will continue to do so."

"But I would like to suggest to you that if we were as confident of your support when we do right as we are of your criticism when we do wrong, we would be even more effective on your behalf."

AFL President George Meany, in a keynote address, earlier opening the convention, seemed to anticipate Mitchell's charge of political bias against the GOP by asserting that the AFL was tied to neither major party.

"We are not going to be the tail to the Democratic kite or the Republican kite," Meany said. "We are going ahead under the Gompers philosophy by any method under which we feel we can make progress."

Anti-Pollution Suit Considered Against Milwaukee

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—Chicago Sanitary Board officials and Gov. Stratton conferred Monday on a possible anti-pollution suit by the State of Illinois against the City of Milwaukee.

Anthony A. Oils, board president, told reporters afterward that the suit would be aimed at forcing Milwaukee to halt alleged discharge of raw sewage into Lake Michigan.

Because of north to south currents along the lakefront, Oils said, pollution at Milwaukee, about 90 miles north of Chicago, constitutes a potential threat to water supplies of Chicago and North Shore communities.

He said that Stratton agreed to ask Atty. Gen. Latham Castle's views as to the feasibility of suing. The contemplated suit would be filed by the state in the U. S. Supreme Court.

It would seek an injunction against the practice of polluting the lake waters and possibly a mandamus to compel Milwaukee to provide adequate treatment, Oils said.

The Chicago Sanitary Board president said he submitted evidence to the governor backing up the pollution allegations.

Oils first suggested such a suit after President Eisenhower vetoed the bill passed by Congress to allow greater diversion of Lake Michigan water into the Illinois Waterway. Oils said the states of Wisconsin and Michigan and the City of Milwaukee were instrumental in bringing about the veto.

Russell Root, board counsel, accompanied Oils on the visit to Stratton.

Ask Court Find Fleming Guilty Of Aiding Enemy

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (P)—The prosecution contended Monday there "were no excuses for the acts" attributed to Lt. Col. Harry Fleming during his three years in a prisoner of war camp.

The Army prosecutor asked the court to find guilty the 46-year-old infantry officer, the first American Army officer to be tried on charges of collaborating with the enemy in Korea.

Lt. Col. John R. Pritchard, the prosecutor, summed up the evidence after some three weeks of testimony before an 11-member Army court.

If convicted, Fleming faces a maximum sentence of life imprisonment, dismissal from the Army, and forfeiture of all pay and privileges.

A verdict of acquittal would terminate any further action by the military on the charges.

Conviction is subject to review by the 5th Army judge advocate, the 5th Army commanding general in the area, and the judge advocate general in Washington.

New Book Blames Oppenheimer, Scientists For Four Year Lag In Developing H-Bomb

WASHINGTON (P)—A new book of H-bombs. But it adds: "Within only a few years or even less the Red air force . . . must be conceded the same capability against the United States."

Both authors of "The Hydrogen Bomb" are Time magazine staff members. Shepley heads Time's Washington bureau.

Shepley, war correspondent and later an Army captain, served for two years as an aide to Gen. George C. Marshall and went with Marshall on the general's mission to China. Blair served in the Navy in World War II.

U. S. News & World Report said they "had access to official sources, spent months of research" on the H-bomb problem. It said, "Many of the officials concerned have read advance copies of the book and furnished corroborative data to the authors."

The authors put the blame on a number of factors for this country's failure to press ahead with H-bomb development as soon as Russia exploded its first atomic weapon—known as "Joe One"—in August 1949. They say President Truman was "evasive" at first, the Air Force indifferent, the prevalent Washington attitude one of confusion. Within the coming year, the book says, the United States could virtually wipe the Soviet Union from the face of the earth with a rain-

Grand Jury To Probe FHA Scandals Charge

WASHINGTON (P)—Atty. Gen. Brownell Monday announced that a special grand jury in Washington will investigate possible "bribery and other criminal conduct in the federal housing program."

He also disclosed plans for nationwide action, saying: "Warren Olney III, head of the Department of Justice's criminal division, will this week call upon U.S. attorneys in all other districts of the nation to present to grand juries as soon as material is available full testimony concerning criminal conduct uncovered by the administration's investigation in their districts."

Brownell's action was the latest chapter in the unfolding story of how many promoters and others pocketed huge profits on rental housing under the Federal Housing Administration.

Dr. Sheppard Sobs During Plea For Release On Bail

CLEVELAND (P)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard after sobbing bitterly during his attorney's final plea for his release, latened with a set face Monday as Judge Edward Blythin denied an appeal for bail.

The judge set Oct. 18, as the opening of the first degree murder trial of the slender osteopath, accused of bludgeoning his pregnant wife to death last July 4.

Under Ohio law, a defendant in a first degree murder case can be released on bail only if it can be proved that the proof is not evident and the presumption of guilt is not great enough.

Judge Blythin held that the grand jury indictment of Sheppard Aug. 17 was sufficient presumption of guilt to deny bail. He said the defense had produced no evidence to show the indictment was not properly found and presented.

Dr. Sheppard wept behind a clenched hand during the attorney's plea.

The attorney said journalism "hit a new low" when columnist Walter Winchell said in an article printed here recently that "the key word in the Sheppard trial will be sterility."

"Because of Winchell and people like him," Corrigan said, "the memory of Marilyn Sheppard and her unborn child were abused for a passing sensation."

Cold Air Sweeps Down From Canada

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A strong surge of cold air from Canada blew into the Northern Plains Monday, bringing temperatures of 40 and 50 degrees in much of North Dakota and Montana.

Devil's Lake, N.D., had a mid-day reading of 42.

Across the border in Canada afternoon showers in some spots turned to snow flurries.

Clear skies with seasonal temperatures prevailed from the Rockies to the Pacific. Hot and muggy weather blanketed an area from Texas to the Carolinas.

Skies were partly cloudy and temperatures near normal over the Great Lakes, the middle and upper Mississippi Valley and the Ohio Valley. It was cloudy and mild in the Northeast.

The usual procedure in the questioned cases was to skim off "windfall profits" from FHA-insured loans that exceeded the actual cost of the housing projects.

Investigators, congressional and executive, have reported that graft and corruption figured in some flagrant cases. One specific program under attack, called "Section 608," expired in 1950.

Brownell teased some backbats at the Truman administration in his announcement, saying of the FHA: "The huge federal agency upon which the nation depended for stimulating home building and housing construction became riddled with corruption under the prior administration."

Also, Brownell specified that in the District of Columbia grand jury proceedings, U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover would present evidence of the activities of Clyde L. Powell. He said Powell, who resigned last April about the time the housing scandals came to light, "rose to assistant commissioner of the FHA" despite knowledge of the former administration of an arrest record, including conviction for jewel theft.

"While assistant commissioner," Brownell said, "Powell had charge of the rental housing program which operated from 1946 to 1950."

This program resulted in hundreds of millions of dollars in "windfall" profits to speculators exceeding $1 million dollars alone in the 285 cases reviewed by the special investigations office set up by the present administration in FHA."

A report from this FHA office Sept. 12 said Powell "became the czar of the nation's postwar rental housing program, granting and withholding favors worth millions of dollars, and extracting personal gain for himself out of the administration of his public trust, reflected in higher rents and added burdens on thousands of families of limited means."

Powell said at the time that nobody "has evidence that any builder or promoter ever paid me any money during my tenure of office with FHA, in connection with official business." He said he had recommended at least twice that Section 608 be discontinued or tightened up.

Powell said he refused to testify before a Senate Committee because he had never been told specifically of what he was accused. It was learned that he was served with a subpoena last Friday for a grand jury appearance Oct. 6.

U.S. Ready To Halt Red China's Bid For Seat In U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P)—U.S. sources said Monday night the West is ready with a strong counterattack to meet expected demands of the Soviet bloc and India for admission of Red China to the U. N.

The West drew its line tighter as the Eighth General Assembly wound up in a two-minute session and the delegates prepared for the Ninth Assembly, convening Tuesday.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will be on hand to speak for the United States if and when Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky brings up the Red Chinese issue. American delegation members said.

Getting ready for this fight, U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. charged Sunday that Communist China carried out 39 "warlike acts of piracy" against ships and planes of seven nations.

Vishinsky kept quiet about his plans. He conferred in an hallway with delegates from Czechoslovakia and Poland. Asked if he would raise the question of admission of Red China Tuesday, Vishinsky smiled and said, "I don't know."

Western delegates said the procedure would follow that adopted last year. If Vishinsky does the expected and makes a fight for Red China, Dulles or some other member of the bloc will propose that the question be postponed until the end of the year. This technically would take care of the Ninth Assembly, which is scheduled to adjourn Dec. 7.

Hold Youth, 17, For Shooting Father Who Abused Mother

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (P)—A 17-year-old boy who says he slew his father with a shotgun to end abuse of his mother was held on an open charge Monday. Meanwhile, officials probed deeper into the violence that brought patricide to a family with 12 children.

Held in jail here was Kenneth Walker of nearby Egg Harbor, who was quoted by Dist. Atty. Herbert Johnson of Door County as saying he killed his father, Howard, 45, early Monday, because he was beating his mother, 41.

"I am sorry I did it. I only wanted to stop the fighting," Kenneth wrote in his statement to the district attorney.

Johnson said he would defer issuance of a warrant until he had questioned the four other terrified children who witnessed the shooting. Ten of the Walkers' 12 children live at home. The district attorney said Mary, 18, Marvin, 15, and Martin, 12, were in the kitchen when their father was shot with a big game slug from a shotgun. He said Frank, 16, was standing behind Kenneth on the stairs when Kenneth fired.

Five other children, the youngest 3 years old, were upstairs at the time. Two older sons are in military service.

Walker was cut down by the powerful slug which tore into his chest and emerged from his back. He fell unconscious but remained alive for 10 minutes. He was dead when officers, summoned by Kenneth, arrived.

LOW-CUT DRESSES UNPATRIOTIC

VIENNA, Austria (P)—A Communist magazine reaching here Monday from Budapest says Hungarian girls wearing low-cut dresses have succumbed to the "influence of the enemy."

The magazine Uymarcus said "sex-emphasizing short skirts, loud colors and low-cut dresses are unpatriotic and foreign."

Would Include Britain

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France Monday outlined plans for a treaty to rearm West Germany in Western defense which he said could be signed and ratified before the year's end.

The plan, which Mendes-France outlined to the European Consultative Assembly here, would tie West Germany in a tight European alliance including Britain before there is any step to add rearmament to NATO's ranks.

The preliminary alliance would include Britain, West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg at least. Once it is formed, the Premier said, France would be less hostile to German entry into the 14-nation NATO.

He has never said he would veto West Germany's admission to the NATO pact that binds the United States to Western Europe's defenses, he declared.

The main points of Mendes-France's plan to plug the breach left by the French-killed EDC unified army proposal are:

1. Any pact calling on West Germany and France to unite to provide troops for common defense must include Britain as a full partner. The basis for the new alliance would be the 1948 Brussels pact.

2. Top limits would be fixed on fighting forces of West Germany and other members of the alliance.

3. Construction of arms factories and arms production would be strictly supervised and controlled.

4. The new alliance would be tied closely to NATO. Mendes-France said this would reduce French resistance to West Germany's entry into NATO.

5. Quick drafting of a treaty of only 20 to 25 articles to carry out the plan. The Premier predicted the job could be done within a month, with the member countries ratifying the treaty before the end of this year.

The French premier emphasized the new alliance would not replace NATO as a military organization but would cooperate with it closely. The new group also would take over distribution of American aid to member countries.

PEIPING CHARGES FRENCH KILL INDOCHINESE

TOKYO (Tuesday) (P)—Peiping Radio charged Tuesday that French troops killed 74 Indochinese civilians and wounded 86 "in a massacre" in two villages of south central Viet Nam earlier this month.

"This monstrous violation of the armistice agreement took place in the area from which the Viet Nam People's Forces (Communists) had just pulled out," a broadcast heard in Tokyo asserted.

Monday's temperatures as recorded at the WLDS transmitter were as follows:

High 80 at 3 p.m.
Low 68 from 7 until 9 p.m.
Sunday's high 86, low 60.
The lake level is remaining steady at 15' below the spillway.
Sunset Tuesday, 6:00 p.m.
Sunrise Wednesday, 5:47 a.m.

Forecast for Jacksonville and vicinity: Partly cloudy, windy and cooler Tuesday; Wednesday fair and cool. High Tuesday mid 70s. Low Tuesday night low 50s. High Wednesday mid 70s.

TRIBE VICTORY HELPS BASEBALL

Now that even the New York Yankees acknowledge that their reign over the American League has ended after five long years, it is fair to have a look at their successors, the Cleveland Indians, and to see how they brought about the dynasty's fall.

There won't be much disagreement that the Cleveland pitching staff was the greatest single key to the team's headlong rush to the pennant. The names "Lemon, Garcia and Wynn" must be etched deeply on the brain of Yankee Manager Casey Stengel. They put the chill of death on all aspiring batters.

They were Cleveland's strong boys, as they had been in other seasons, but this time they had magnificent help. Aging Bob Feller had a sparkling year, and Art Houtteman gave a real lift to the Big Three with 15 victories. Two stout-armed youngsters, Mossi and Narleski, provided sterling relief, as did Hal Newhouser, Detroit cast-off.

Together these fellows kept opposition batters away from scoring territory so persistently that some of them forgot the way there. Cleveland's opponents averaged less than three runs a game.

The Indian catcher, Jim Hegan, said it didn't matter whether he called the right pitch or the wrong one. His pitchers threw the ball past the hitters anyway.

With that sturdy rock to tie to, the Indians developed a superior winning spirit. With good pitching, they knew they'd seldom be too far behind. They never gave up. They won three fourths of the one-run decisions they were involved in, two thirds of the extra-inning games, and again and again came from behind to win.

They set a thrilling pace from the outset. Morale was high, and the winning continued despite a succession of injuries that hobbled one after another of the key men. Castoffs and substitutes filled in and delivered, sometimes better than the damaged regulars.

This was not a high-scoring team, a really heavy-hitting outfit, or a superb-fielding club. Three, four, five or six runs most often were all it got, but they were enough.

The bosses had switched away from heavy-footed power toward greater speed and the timely punch, and it paid off. On a lot of days the playing roster looked anything but dazzling. Talent seemed a bit sparse. But the men in the lineup had one attractive characteristic: they could win baseball games.

The Yanks and Chicago White Sox fought them to a standstill, but they kept Detroit in pretty fair submission and absolutely pulverized the four second-division teams, capturing 75 of 88 played with this competition.

New York, winning more games than in its five straight championship years, still showed signs of decline, mostly in pitching and around second base. The pace was just too swift. The old Yankee habit of refusing to lose finally rubbed off on their most persistent pursuers.

There are more Yankee haters than Yankee lovers, but even the latter may concede it was time for a change. The Indians' triumph is good for baseball. We won't try to argue that it's good for the country.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Olivia De Havilland is back in town, but only to make a movie. She'll make Paris her regular residence after her marriage to Pierre Galante. I asked if a California girl like herself wouldn't miss Hollywood. "Your forget that I was born in Japan," she replied. "Of course, I grew up here and I do miss the weather."

"Human beings adjust to wherever they are, and I must say there's no finer place to become adjusted to than Paris. It is an absolutely wonderful place, and my son Benjie loves it as much as I do."

Olivia is here to play the nurse's role in the medical saga, "Not as a Stranger." I saw her after she made tests for the film, and she was in white gown and cap, ready for surgery.

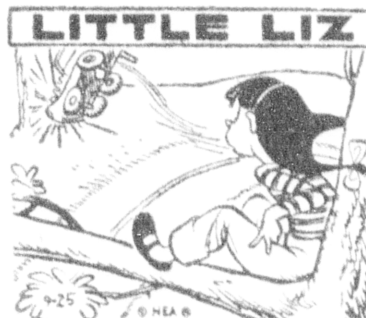

"We're going into surgery tomorrow," Olivia said with anticipation. She explained that she, Frank Sinatra and others on the picture would be allowed to witness an operation.

I asked Olivia about her forthcoming marriage, and she said it would take place some time after the picture is finished. Galante will meet her here in December. The marriage would have taken place sooner, except that French law required a nine-month wait after her divorce.

One of Olivia's early beaux was John Huston. Her first husband was novelist Marcus Goodrich, and now comes Galante. I mentioned that she seems to have an affinity for the writing breed.

"Oh, dear," she smiled, "here I go again."

One bad thing about liquor is that it often makes a man go straight when the road curves.

Let Your Husband Know He Is Part of Your Social Life

A wife and mother of several small children says she is "utterly lonely" because her husband, who has many friends, rarely brings any one home.

Instead of planning some social life with his wife he leaves her at home with the children while he plays golf, meets friends down town for lunch or dinner, goes to various club meetings, etc.

She can't see any way out of the situation since her husband seems perfectly satisfied with things as they are.

There is a way out, if she is ready to rebel against being the neglected "little woman" and get busy making a social life that includes them both.

INCLUDE HUSBAND IN YOUR PLANS

The first thing she should do, of course, is to make some friends of her own. If she starts by inviting only one couple to dinner, she should make it quite clear to her husband that she expects him to be at home to act as host.

After they have entertained a few of her friends, she can suggest that he might like to include some of his friends next time they entertain.

But whether he does or not—she shouldn't give up her plan to entertain in her own home, with her husband sharing the honors.

No husband has the right to work out a social life that excludes his wife. But if a husband doesn't include his wife in his plans, then she should include him in plans she makes herself.

A man can't turn a wife into "the little woman" unless she wants to play that passive role.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — If you were a wartime Soviet spy and had a choice, which would you take: A life of freedom for telling what you know or possible imprisonment and death if you refused to talk?

It's a choice some men are probably trying to make right now behind the doors of a federal grand jury room here.

The Justice Department reportedly is guiding a grand jury investigation, looking toward indictments and trials, of four alleged wartime spy rings among former government workers.

The maximum penalty for wartime spying is death, no matter how long after the war a man is found guilty. Former spies must have had some sleepless nights since the war, thinking about it.

The government now has a new weapon to use against any spy rings. It is the immunity law, passed by Congress this summer. This law permits the government to call in an individual, even a onetime spy, and tell him:

"We know you were a spy. If you tell us what you know, we may be able to convict the higher-ups in the ring. If you do tell us, we promise you will never be prosecuted for what you did."

If he accepted the immunity offer and talked, the ex-spy's life there after would be free of worry about prosecution. At the same time he'd be helping his country.

If he refused to talk, having been promised immunity, he could be indicted for contempt of Federal Court. How much time would he have to serve in jail if tried and found guilty? That's up to the judge.

More than that: If he preferred silence to immunity, some of his co-conspirators, should they in turn be offered immunity, might talk about him. They might talk enough to convict him of wartime spying.

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said a week ago this immunity law already is having an effect on Communists. He said they are coming by themselves to the government with offers to talk.

Until now one of the government's worst stumbling blocks in trying to unravel the Communist conspiracy was the Fifth Amendment under which individuals with information had an excuse for silence.

A wartime spy, called before a grand jury, knew that anything he said—that is, the actual words—never could be used against him if some day the government wanted to bring him to trial for spying.

But while the government could never use his exact grand jury testimony against him, it could use that testimony as a lead to other evidence which could be used to try and convict him.

So an ex-spy was always able to say: "I refuse to answer any questions because the Fifth Amendment says a man can't be compelled to say anything which some day might land him in jail."

To get around this, Atty. Gen. Brownell asked Congress to pass the immunity law.

But there is still an unanswered question about the immunity law itself: Is it constitutional? That is, does Congress have the right to say a man can't use the Fifth Amendment?

DR. JORDAN SAYS

Skin Disorders, While Not Pretty, Are Rarely Dangerous

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

Year after year questions on a skin disease known as psoriasis continue to pour in. Most recently Miss J. S. and R. N. have inquired for information concerning this common ailment.

I use the word ailment advisedly since while the condition is often somewhat hard on the appearance it is usually harmless so far as life or general health is concerned.

Frequently only a small part of the skin is involved with this disorder but it may spread over large areas of the skin. One of its definite characteristics is to come and go with periods of improvement and periods of worsening.

The most common locations for psoriasis are at the back of the elbows, the knees, the scalp and the lower part of the back. Sometimes the skin eruption begins suddenly but often it starts with only a few spots on scattered parts of the body. The affected area of the skin usually appears bright red, scaly and flat.

THERE is a sharp line between the involved skin and that which appears completely normal.

Psoriasis may gradually spread or stay in the same spot. Itching is unusual in the chronic cases which are the more common; in the acute cases, however, itching is frequent.

The skin which has been involved for a long time usually becomes covered with a thick scale, and if this is removed by scraping, tiny bleeding points appear underneath.

UNFORTUNATELY, like so many other diseases of the skin, the cause of psoriasis is not known. Members of the same family often have psoriasis, however, so that many doctors have commented on the family tendency. Psoriasis begins most frequently between the ages of 10 and 30. It is almost certainly not caused by germs.

Unnumerable treatments have been tried which seem to bring about good results at least temporarily. In fact, psoriasis is one of those disorders for which several new treatments are reported almost every year.

A large number of these have not stood the test of time and therefore one should be extremely cautious about accepting the value of any new remedy for psoriasis.

IN MANY CASES of chronic psoriasis, good results may come from any one of the different treatments. The psoriasis then disappears and later returns. When the same treatment which produced good results the first time is tried again, nothing may come of it and a new method has to be attempted.

For these reasons, psoriasis is often an extremely discouraging thing for patient and doctor alike.

Occasionally psoriasis develops in a pus-like form which, of course, requires a different kind of management. About three out of 100 patients with psoriasis also have arthritis.

This has caused some doctors to feel that there is a special form of psoriasis called psoriatic arthritis. But the exact relation between these two conditions is still a matter of debate.

Boyle's Column

By SAUL PETT (FOR HAL BOYLE)

NEW YORK (P)—With a deep bow to their courage and a prayer for their peace of mind, this little tribe is dedicated to those unsung heroes who leave the safety of their homes and knowingly walk into an ambush.

I'm thinking of substitute school teachers.

A friend of ours subbed in the sixth grade the other day. The class tilted. Hours later she discovered the cause—a note passed from conspirator to conspirator. It said:

"What dunk did they dig this one up from?"

"The little darlings," said our friend, "are just waiting to trick you, to taunt, to smirk, to connive against, to confuse—particularly to confuse—to undermine, to have fun with, to exploit—particularly to exploit."

While the sub is worrying about how she looks and whether the mob will like her, she reaches into the regular teacher's desk, feeling like an intruder. She pulls out the seating plan. Ordinarily, the troublemakers are separated. Today, she finds "things changed." But each one of the sweet little liars insists that his regular seat.

The sub writes on the blackboard. A boy in the back asks her to rewrite the fourth word. Another asks about the last word. Teacher begins to worry that her handwriting has gone to pot. Another request for a re-write. Then a giggle. Then teacher catches on.

In the lower grades especially kids are contradictory. They love to break the rules. They also love to heckle the sub for not following the rules.

One day in the first grade, our friend passed out lined paper for a spelling test. A girl asked, "Should we fold the paper down the middle?" The sub studied the permanent study plan for the answer. It wasn't there.

Being cautious in her ignorance, she said brightly, "Well, how do you usually do it?"

Suddenly bedlam. Thirty hands wave wildly. Thirty throats shout 30 different versions. And, working quietly under the diversionary storm, Johnny near the window kicks Walter in the shins. Walter tries a headlock on Tommy and Tommy innocently brushes Helen's gym shoes off her desk.

A few minutes later, trying to overcome a lull, the sub asked another young citizen where he got his new fire engine. The boy, whose father is one of the town's most prosperous merchants, answered like a machine gun.

"My father gave it to me. He got it out of a garbage can. We got everything out of garbage cans and clothes and."

This time teacher was saved by the recess bell.

Manners Make Friends

Wasting a busy person's time is the height of rudeness. A good policy to follow is the one outlined by Wellington, who put it this way:

"Call on a businessman only at business times, and on business; transact your business, and go about your business, in order to give him time to finish his business."

Private Planning of New EDC Will Be UN Sideshow

By PETER EDSO

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Preliminary talks on what to do about the French turnaround of EDC—the European Defense Community—now seems headed for private discussions during the opening days of the United Nations General Assembly. It convenes for its ninth session in New York on Sept. 20.

Most of the European foreign ministers and U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will be there at the kickoff.

German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will not be there, as his country is not in the UN. But before the other western European countries can meet with the Germans, it is now believed there will have to be some exploration with the U. S. for a new formula.

This is indicated by the announcement by the U. S. High Commissioner for Germany that Secretary Dulles will be at Bonn Sept. 16 for urgent talks with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on German rearmament and sovereignty. The announcement climaxes six days of intensive diplomatic activity in Western Europe by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U. S. Undersecretary of State Robert B. Murphy.

Chancellor Adenauer has been shying away from any conference with the Europeans which will have Secretary Dulles there to back him up in the new demands for west German independence and arms.

At the present time, it can be stated authoritatively that the United States has no fixed policy to replace EDC. It will take time to develop a substitute. That is why informal talks on the subject—not on the floor of the UN Assembly, but outside, in private—may provide the most important news developments of the forthcoming session.

Only one new issue now seems headed for the UN agenda. This is the Cyprus question. It may cause the American delegation plenty of trouble because it involves two good friends of the United States—Britain and Greece.

The Greeks and the people of Cyprus in the east Mediterranean want independence from Britain and union with Greece.

The British position is that Cyprus has been one of their crown colonies since 1878, and that the island's government is none of the Greek's business. The British have offered the Cypriots a new constitution and a measure of independence and self-government in come out of the UN Assembly this year.

There will be a report that no satisfactory solution for the Korean question could be found at the Geneva conference. There is no plan in sight now for new Korean peace negotiations.

There will be a report that the Disarmament Commission, which met in London last summer, could make no progress. It will probably be instructed to try again, perhaps with a new committee.

The Russians will try usual moves to unseat the Chinese Nationalist delegates and to admit Red China to membership. That will be opposed by the United States. Admission of other new members will be blocked by the Russians or their satellites, for another round in this long-standing stalemate.

Independence for Morocco and Tunisia will be brought up again. But the French record in North Africa has improved since the last session and there may be less tension now.

Thailand Has Decided not to press for a UN observer team to study Communist threats against her borders.

The question of Chinese Nationalist forces within Burma has been eased by moving most of these guerrillas to Formosa.

The Netherlands and Indonesia will present an argument over western New Guinea, each side accusing the other of negotiating in good faith on the future status of this big island domain.

The Marshall Islanders have a polite protest to make before the Trusteeship Council over U. S. hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific. The American government is trying to work it out quietly. But India and some of the Communist countries which want the H-bomb tests stopped may try to whip this up into a major protest issue.

The U. S. delegation is expected to present to the UN further details on President Eisenhower's plan to pool atomic energy resources for peaceful uses. And this may be one of the more constructive things to come out of the UN Assembly this year.

WHEN COLDS MAKE HIM CRY —
Give Your Baby Relief that DOES MORE THAN WORK ON CHEST!

When a cold makes your child miserable, he needs a medication that does more than just work on his chest. He needs Vicks VapoRub — because it acts two ways at once:

1. VapoRub relieves muscular soreness and tightness, stimulates chest surfaces.

2. At the same time, VapoRub's special medicated vapors also bring relief with every breath.

You can't see these vapors, but your child can feel them as they travel deep into the nose, throat and large bronchial tubes. Congestion starts breaking up. Coughing eases. Soon he enjoys warming relief that lasts for hours.

So when colds strike, use the best-known home remedy to relieve such suffering — Vicks VapoRub.

HITCHING POST DAYS

Remember when hitching posts, instead of parking meters, flanked Main Street? Sometimes it was as much of a trick to hitch old Nell close to the general store as it is to park your car in the downtown area today. Time marches on, and life becomes more complex. Looking back, you enjoyed the peaceful, less-hurried ways of those hitching post days. Remember?

Edna Saint,
Clyde Boensel
Exchange Vows

CHANDLERVILLE — On Sunday afternoon, September 12th, at 4 o'clock Miss Edna Saint, daughter of Mrs. Della Saint, and Clyde Allan Boensel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Boensel, all of Chandlerville, were united in Marriage at the Christian Church parsonage. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Neva Morris, pastor.

The bride wore a sky blue nylon net ballerina length dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Her attendant was her sister, Mrs. Ruby Trowbridge, who wore a similar dress of yellow net with a pink corsage.

Mr. Boensel's attendant was Rudy Trowbridge, brother-in-law of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

3 Tier Wedding Cake

At the beautifully decorated bride's table was Miss Nancy Jean Boensel, sister of the groom, and Miss Mary Louise Lintner, cousin of the groom, serving the three-tiered wedding cake which was baked by the bridegroom's mother.

Guests at the reception were Mrs. W. Viera, Mrs. Lela Boensel of Jacksonville, Mrs. Buelah Luck, Mr. and Mrs. William Luck of Iowa; Dick Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Thomas and Allan and Penny of Oakford, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Trowbridge, Mrs. David McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Lintner and Mary Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dietrich and Nathalie, Mr. and Mrs. James Dietrich and Samuel, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Spores, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kennedy, Mrs. Richard Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lynn and Kathleen, Mrs. Kenneth Wiseman, Eva and Adah, Mr. Ivan Lintner, Miss Bobette Dearing, Mrs. Buelah Hill, Mrs. Ruth Hinchey, Mr. Hardin Murphy, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boensel and Nancy Jean.

Attended Chandlerville Schools. Mrs. Boensel attended Chandlerville school, and her husband was a member of the class of 1953 of the Chandlerville High School. He is employed by a construction company that is now building the new gymnasium in Chandlerville. They will make their home with the groom's parents for the present time.

FRANKLIN

FRANKLIN—The Local Bazaar Class of the Christian Church will hold its regular social meeting next Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Edgar Buel, Mrs. Harry Hamilton will be assistant hostess.

The Philatelic Class of the Methodist Church will meet next Wednesday evening, Sept. 22, at the home of Mrs. Richard Sayre. Mrs. Howard Scott will be assistant hostess. A potluck supper will be served.

Mrs. Guy Seymour and her granddaughter, Pay Ann Seymour, visited Mrs. Seymour's sister, Mrs. Ben Smith in Jacksonville, Tuesday.

Cpl. Jerry Ramsey and his wife ate supper last Sunday evening with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ramsey. Jerry was discharged last week at Fort Meade, where he has been stationed the past year. He will enter Illinois College, where he will be a junior and continue the studies which were interrupted by the draft, two years ago.

Richard Hembrong and Tilford Moore went to St. Louis last Friday for induction into the army. Tilford did not pass the physical examination and was sent back home. Richard, however, did pass and was sent to Fort Smith, Ark. for training.

Mr. Noel Wiley has been visiting friends in Murrayville the past week.

Norma Kay Jewsbury has been ill with tonsillitis and out of school since Tuesday.

Mrs. Lela Asplund of Girard, has been visiting Mrs. Maude Wiley and other friends and relatives this week.

Chapin Rebekah Lodge Chapter
Meets Wednesday

CHAPIN—The Frances Willard Rebekah lodge met at the I.O.O.F. Hall Wednesday evening with seven members present.

After the business session, Mary Rudolph, president of the Rebekah State Assembly of Illinois, was introduced and gave an interesting talk.

Other members present included Mrs. Whitney of Mt. Olive, Mrs. Iona Walsh, Elsie Becker, Adaline Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McAllister of Meredosia.

After the lodge was closed all present were escorted to the Corner Cupboard for refreshments.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Brownlow and son and fiancée of Decatur were calling on friends here Sunday. Nelson is a former resident of Chapin.

R. J. Langford and son Tom of Peoria were recent callers at the home of his cousin, Miss Ethel Austin.

Austin Griffin was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening, Sept. 7 on his birthday. The evening was spent socially.

At a late hour refreshments of home made ice cream, cake and coffee were served. Those being guests during the day included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Griffin and Susie, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Griffin, John, James and Mary.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bonds are taking a trip to Florida.

Mrs. Elsie Adams is visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weber at Wyoming, Ill. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brockhouse of Jacksonville.

Home Bureau
Day Unit Meets
At C. Willners

The Jacksonville Day Unit of Home Bureau met Sept. 13 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Willner.

Mrs. Ralph Welles called the meeting to order and Mrs. Helen Winner read the minutes and called the roll. Twenty one members answered roll by naming their favorite fall flower. Mrs. Welles, club chairman, led in the pledge to the flag and Mrs. Holt, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the names of those to be voted on at the next meeting.

Names to be voted on were Mrs. Earl Bourn, chairman, Mrs. H. V. Stubblefield, vice chairman; Mrs. George Coroar, secretary and treasurer.

The major lesson, "Clothes Makes the Difference in Washing and Ironing" was given by Mrs. Margaret Coroar. Mrs. Rufus presented the selected subject "Using Pictures and Mirrors in the Home."

The meeting adjourned with Mrs. Willner, hostess, and Mrs. Winner, assistant hostess, serving delicious refreshments. A delightful social hour was enjoyed by all.

STATE FARM WINS

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Bloomington, Ill., State Farm chiefs remained undefeated in the World Softball Tournament Monday by scoring a 1-0 victory.

Bloomington's manager and second baseman, Don Miles, hammered the first pitch of the last of the 10th inning for a home run that defeated the Benton, Mich., Cowboys.

Bloomington outbit Benton five to two.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—One of the greatest running attacks ever spawned in the Big Ten will be unleashed by Illinois Saturday in its season football inaugural against sturdy Penn State, a pride of the East.

Seldom has a team been so highly touted for ball-carrying potential as the Illini, who were led to the conference co-championship last year by J. C. Caroline.

Halfback Caroline broke Red Grange's yard-carrying mark in 1953 with a total offense record of 1,670 yards and led the nation in rushing with 1,256. He is back this season, eager as ever to accelerate.

Caroline will be a marked man, but if opponents stop him it is questionable they will stop Illinois.

At right half is Abe Woodson, 6-1 182-pound sophomore who is faster than Caroline. He won the 70-yard low hurdle title in the Big Ten indoor track meet last March in '53. In the spring football game he contributed gains totaling 149 yards.

The explosive Woodson also is a demon on pass defense.

If Caroline and Woodson are stopped, Illinois still can keep going.

Mickey Bates, who ran and smacked passes for 687 yards and supplemented Caroline last year and scored 11 touchdowns, has been shifted to fullback.

His inside smashes, coupled with the flanking speed of the other two should give the Illini football's most feared punch.

Caroline's understudy probably could make any first string in the Big Ten. He is sophomore Harry Jefferson, a 5-10 180-pound all-state prep star from White Plains, N.Y. As a runner, he is rated on a par with the rest.

As the season progresses, a sophomore quarterback may be seen more and more in the Illini backfield. He is Hiles Stout of Peoria, Ill., a terrific 6-4, 210-pound prospect who recently pitched five touchdowns passes in an intrasquad game.

He fills Coach Ray Eliot's long desire for a passer who can see over heads of rushing linemen to pick out his targets. Stout also is a powerful runner.

Penn State should be an ideal test for the Illini, but undoubtedly a stronger foe than Eliot would like for an opener.

Twelve of 18 returning lettermen for the Nittany Lions are linemen. There is exceptional strength at the ends to greet Woodson and Caroline as they try to turn the corner and in the middle to blunt the thrusts of Bates.

Oklahoma First, Illinois Sixth In Football Poll

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Oklahoma's show of class against California sent the Sooners soaring into the No. 1 spot Monday in the first college football poll of the regular season by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters.

Oklahoma took a march on many of the other clubs who were among the leaders in the pre-season poll, moving out front by thumping California 27-13 while Notre Dame, the pre-season No. 1 club, was idle.

The Irish, voted second although they haven't made their first start under 26-year-old Terry Brennan, bump into the No. 4 club, Texas, this week.

Oklahoma cornered 56 of the 87 first-place votes. Notre Dame's 11 was next best. Two teams, Ohio State and West Virginia, received first-place ballots but didn't place among the leading 20 teams.

CHIEF ILLINIWEK THE TWELFTH

Gaylord Spotts of Jacksonville once again assumes the role, and duties of "Illiniwek," the traditional chief and spirit of the Fighting Illini at the University of Illinois.

For 28 years, Illiniwek has danced in front of the band in the climax of its half-time appearances at games.

The first performance of an Illiniwek was Oct. 30, 1926, when Pennsylvania played at Illinois Ray Dvorak, then director of the Illinois football band, got the idea of having an Indian smoke the pipe of peace with William Penn between halves of the game.

Illiniwek has smoked with a representative of the opposing team, and danced at every game at which the Illinois band has appeared.

Illiniwek was the name of a Potawatami Indian Tribe which once inhabited the area now covered by the State of Illinois. The name is the Indian plural for "Illini," pronounced "Til-Eye-Nich," now the nickname for the University—which in the Indian language meant "man," not in the term commonly used, but in the oral, intellectual, spiritual and physical sense.

Gaylord, who is 20, resides at 853 East State with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Spotts and a younger sister, Sue Ellen, age four, and an older brother, Stan, age twenty-four.

The Chief, a junior, who is majoring in Music has this 1954 season and the 1955 season in which he hopes Chief Illiniwek's Spirit will lead the Fighting Illini to the Rose Bowl come January 1st.

Maglie Hurls, Giants Clinch Pennant With 7-1 Win Over Brooks

BROOKLYN (AP)—The New York Giants buried Brooklyn Monday night and danced a jig on the grass to celebrate the clinching of the National League pennant in the park where they've loved least.

It was fitting that the 37-year-old "Barber" with the long sideburns was the man to nail down the Giants' 15th flag. Maglie shouldered the heavy burden throughout the season, pitching the games that had to be won, facing the toughest clubs in the roughest situations.

And it also was fitting that the Giants marched into a rich World Series date with Cleveland over the prostrate form of the Dodgers, the team that was supposed to walk to its third straight pennant.

Willie Mays, the Giants' sensational centerfielder whose return from the Army last spring ignited the ball club, finally caught up with Duke Snider and took over the league batting lead with three hits for a .344 average.

When Sal Maglie threw to Willie Lockman to retire Roy Campanella for the final out in the ninth, it touched off a wild scene in mid-field. Lockman jumped pray back on Maglie and Giants' fans among the 26,982 customers fought each other to drape their arms around Maglie's back. Special police hustled Sal off the field through the Brooklyn dugout, the shortest way to the clubhouse where another screaming welcome greeted him.

It wasn't a cakewalk for Maglie, despite his fine five-hitter. He walked five to match his five strikeouts but four of the passes came in the first three innings when he was having trouble getting his curve ball over the plate.

Two Giant runs in the first off a shaky Carl Erskine gave Maglie a little margin but it was narrowed to 2-1 in the third. Doubles by Hank Thompson and Monte Irvin were the big bombs in a two-run sixth that eased Maglie's way.

A single run in the seventh and a pair in the eighth off reliever Jim Hughes gave Giant owner Horace Stoneham plenty of time to ice up the champagne for the big blowoff.

Everybody except Maglie had a hit in the 14 off Erskine, Hughes and Pete Wojey. Mays and Thompson got three each.

As a result of Mays' big night the league batting race now stands like this: Mays, 344, Snider 340 and Don Mueller 338.

Snider went hitless and Mueller had one hit in four trips.

Whitey Lockman walked on four straight balls and Al Dark singled to right to start the pennant push. Rolling in the first inning, after Mueller moved up both men with a sacrifice bunt, Mays dropped a single into center, scoring Lockman with the first big run. Thompson smashed a single past Gil Hodges into right field, driving home Dark for the 2-0 lead. Irvin ended all hopes of a real big inning by rapping into a double play.

Brooklyn got one run back in the third after two were out. Maglie suddenly lost control, walking Pee Wee Reese and Snider while throwing only one strike. Hodges dunked a Texas league single into short left center that Mays couldn't quite reach with a belly flop slide, Reese scoring on the hit.

After skirting a dangerous situation in the fifth, when Junior Gilliam doubled off the right field screen with two gone, the Giants went out to get some more in the sixth.

Mueller's single to right with one out brought up Mays but the "Say Hey Kid" struck out. Thompson slammed Erskine's first pitch off the top of the scoreboard in right field for a double, bringing home Mueller. Irvin followed with a scorching double down the left field line as Mueller made it 4-1.

Westrum beat out a bunt to open the seventh and took second on Maglie's sacrifice. Lockman, hitting to the opposite field, got a double on a fly ball back of third base, driving in Westrum with the Giants' fifth run.

After Erskine departed for a futile pinch hitter, the Giants made things warm for Jim Hughes in the eighth. Mays opened with a double to right, his third hit, and Thompson beat out a bunt single. Irvin's long double to left scored Mays and Westrum's sacrifice fly brought home Thompson.

From the Los Angeles Examiner and by way of Mrs. A. J. Barber comes word that Jerry Barber has been named master pro at the new Wilshire Country Club in the California city. The article stated Jerry was offered and accepted a two-year contract to replace Ellisworth Vines who takes over in Ben Hogan's shoes as head professional at the fashionable Tamarisk Country Club in Palm Springs.

Barber's chief assistant will be Milton Marusic of New York who will be resident pro during a four-month period when Jerry is competing in tournaments or Ryder Cup play. This will give the man who played so well this past summer a chance to hit the trail again next season. Jerry takes over his new post October 1.

A former Jacksonville high school football player was in the starting lineup for East Moline when they tangled with East Aurora Friday night. Ron Russell, a 195-pound lineman, played tackle for Bob Kraushaar at the local school last season. He moved during the summer and got his chance to jump into a regular guard spot at the Moline school when the captain of the team suffered a broken foot.

The PMBC Conference held a meeting last week and elected new officers for the coming year. Gene Hopper, Chandlerville principal, is the new president. Sam Murdock of Bluffs is the new vice-president and Jim Smarjesse gets the job of secretary-treasurer. Paul Blakeman, Harold Hillman and Jim Spink are the out-going officers.

The conference plays all its games under the PMBC heading this year. Last season the football end of the organization came under the 3-C conference. However, Franklin dropped out by shifting to 11-man ball thus leaving only PMBC members in the eight-man loop.

Cardinals Score Five In 10th To Beat Braves 7-2

CHICAGO (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals exploded for five runs in the 10th inning to defeat the Chicago Cubs 7-2 Monday to climb into fifth place by less than a half of percentage point.

Seven of the Redbirds' 16 hits were doubles. St. Louis beat Paul Minner for the first time after the Chicago lefty had won six straight from Eddie Stanky's crew.

Mueller Surges Into Batting Contention

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Mueller of the New York Giants has battled his way into the thick of the National League batting race with a base-hit barrage that made him the first major leaguer to collect 200 hits this season.

Mueller rapped out 12 hits in 23 at bats last week (a .522 pace) and gained seven points to 338. He has an even 200 safeties in 591 at bats.

Don is in third place but well within range of Brooklyn's Duke Snider, who leads with a 342 mark, and Willie Mays of the Giants, the runnerup at 341.

In the American League, Cleveland's Bobby Avila appears to have the championship wrapped up. He's batting .338 to .326 for Chicago's Minnie Minoso, in second place.

Avila dropped two points with three safeties in 13 times at bat and Minoso lost one with 4-for-24. The records include Sunday's games.

Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, with a .324 average after 362 at bats, will have to hit at a .500 clip in his seven remaining games to retain any chance of winning his fifth American League crown.

Big Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs is fourth in the National League batting competition at .333 followed by Stan Musial of St. Louis with .332.

Kluszewski tops the senior circuit in home runs with 49 and in runs batted in with 137. Ted hit one homer and drove in five runs last week.

Irv Noren of the New York Yankees remains in third place in the American League batting chase.

Nellie Fox of Chicago is fourth with .320 and Harvey Kuenn of Detroit is fifth with .312. Kuenn heads the circuit in hits with 197.

Cleveland's Larry Doby still is the American League's pacesetter in home runs with 30 while Yogi Berra of the Yankees has batted in the most runs, 124.

Senators Score In 9th To Hand Yanks 3-2 Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The Washington Senators kept pace with Boston and Detroit in the battle for fourth place in the American League by nipping the New York Yankees, 3-2, in the ninth inning Monday night. The winning run was unearned, a result of an error by catcher Charley Silvers.

THE STORY: A number of mysterious events have puzzled Private Detective Jim Dunn and Nancy, his wife, when they arrive at The Spire, part of the Carlson estate. Jim and Nancy, posing as caretakers, are to "get something" on Mrs. Hilton Carlson, mother-in-law of their client, Mrs. Kit Carlson. The latest unusual occurrence was to find the red shingled roof had a sheer pitch with the eaves exaggerated and curled under toward the gray-green walls. The high chimney of white quartz and granite extended above the peak of the roof. A small balcony ran all around the house.

They climbed the steps to the balcony, and Jim produced the key to the front door and opened it. The place was tiny. It was clean. The furnishings were all French provincial. It was a miniature gem of a place.

"First place I ever saw built on your scale, Nancy," Jim said. "I can see I'm going to have to be careful about stretching. One stretch in the living room and I'd poke my arm out through the kitchen window."

"It's wonderful! It—Oh Jim, you don't suppose they'll come back for these furnishings, too, do you? This is the dearest house. Like a dream, Jim. My dream anyway. A—real honey-moon cottage I guess."

At a quarter past five, a limousine drove slowly down the steep grade, rumbled across the bridge and came to a stop. Jim walked over and opened the rear door, helped out the heavily veiled figure of his client. She stood beside him without a word, made no attempt to enter the house until he had helped out the other occupant of the back seat.

She was a huge woman, with roll upon roll of fat pushing and bulging her tightly stretched pasty white skin. Her nose was a small red blob like a currant set in a too suety pudding.

She held out both hands, small hands looking out of place at the ends of her floursack arms. Jim took those hands. They were hot.

Yet once she set feet on solid ground, she showed an ability for motion which was surprising.

Mrs. Carlson paid off the driver, waited until he had turned the car and started the climb back toward the plateau before she spoke.

"This is Mrs. Gelstrap. My cook, and my friend. I don't know what I'd do without her."

The massive face broke into a broad smile, and a giggle came out. Her voice was high, with just the suggestion of a whine when she said, "How you do carry on."

Jim whirled around, saw that Nancy was walking toward them on the path from the caretaker's cabin.

Mrs. Carlson spoke before he could find words. "But of course, I did tell you to bring a woman along."

"And wearing pants?" She turned toward the open front door. "I must say I find a woman in tight pants quite suggestive. I'll tell you know if there is anything I want."

NANCY kept silent until she had her husband inside the caretaker's cabin and fixed him a cup of coffee. "Now tell me," she insisted. "I suppose she said something about me?"

"She doesn't like women in pants," Jim muttered.

"The poor thing," Nancy said. She jumped from her perch on the arm of Jim's chair, ran into the bedroom. He followed slowly, half expecting to find her in tears. But she was very busy throwing her clothes from both the closet and the partially unpacked suitcases.

From time to time, she held up a garment, glared at it in speculation and either discarded it completely or put it on a growing pile on the bed. "The possibilities," she explained.

"You getting ready to leave?" Jim asked.

"Not me," she said firmly. "But I'm not going to let my appearance be a hindrance to you in your work."

JIM walked grumpily to the end of the small wharf which extended a few feet out into the lake. He had the feeling his client would summon him as soon as she saw him fishing, and he mumbled the well-chosen words he intended to use.

He had four fish in his creel, the largest a good 14 inches and the smallest 13, when he heard the sound of a motor, and saw the outboard speedboat putting toward him.

Even from some distance he had no difficulty making out the now familiar set smile Philip seemed always to wear. The man handled the small boat skillfully, brought it around in a sweeping turn which sent a wave splashing against the steel supports of the pier.

Philip let the boat glide to a stop about 20 feet out. "Have a message for you."

"All right. Let's have it. You're scaring the fish."

"Too bad, chum. The message is from Mrs. Hilton. Mrs. Hilton Carlson. She sent me over to tell you the fish in this lake belong to her. You're not to catch any."

Contractors Ready To Begin Work; Pipe Line Right-Of-Way Secured

An ordinance and six resolutions related to building a water transmission line from the Illinois river to serve the Jacksonville community were given passage at a meeting of the city council last night. Passage of the ordinance and resolutions coincided with announcement by engineers and attorneys that contracting firms are poised ready for work along the 23 mile route of the pipe line. Actual construction is expected to be underway by Oct. 1.

The council also passed a resolution extending for another 30 days an ordinance which removed all restrictions from the use of water, after the severe shortage during the summer. This action means that for another 30 days at least water consumers can use as much as they please.

An ordinance providing for sale of $1,250,000 general obligation bonds was read for a second time by Attorney Orville Foreman, special counsel, after which it passed by unanimous vote on motions by Alderman Kelly and Merri-

The bond sale ordinance was given first reading last Tuesday night after the combined bid of the First National Bank of Chicago, Mercantile Trust Co., St. Louis and A. G. Becker Co., was found to be the most advantageous to the city. The three firms proposed to purchase the bonds at a total net interest cost of $22,955.25 to the city.

Last Owner Signs Up
Attorney Foreman announced that the last owner along the route of the pipe line signed a right-of-way agreement yesterday afternoon, which means that no condemnation proceedings will be necessary.

A large number of right-of-way agreements which have been signed within the past two weeks were authorized to be executed on motions by Alderman Kelly, seconded by Alderman Allen.

Alderman Kelly of the public improvement committee continued to place resolutions on the table for action by the council. The next resolution authorized the acquisition of land north of Naples from the Abbott family, at a price of $2,000 for the site of the pumping plant. The resolution called for the exercise of an option which the city has had for some time. Passage was effected on motions by Alderman Merriam and Kelly.

Another resolution ordered the execution of agreements with officials of the Mauvalsterre drainage district and several road districts in Morgan and Scott counties, through which the pipe line will pass. Motions by Alderman Merriam and May moved it along.

The recording of right-of-way agreements and plats in Morgan and Scott counties was provided in a resolution adopted on motions of Aldermen May and Merriam.

Approve Power Contract
Continuing the groundwork of the big pipe line project, which is counted upon to give the Jacksonville community a steady and adequate water supply, the council passed a resolution authorizing city officials to execute a contract with the Illinois Rural Electric Co., to furnish electric power for the pumping station. This action followed the receipt of proposals from both the Illinois Rural Electric Co., and the Central Illinois Public Service Co.

The contract provides for a 10 year agreement, with a minimum charge of $350 per month. The electric rate is based in the volume of power used. The resolution, passed on motions of Aldermen Chumley and Kelly, provided that the agreement be placed on file for one week in the city clerk's office for public inspection.

Mayor Hogland called the council's attention to the expiration of the 30 day period covered by an ordinance which removed water restrictions, and asked the council's pleasure in the matter. The council then heard a report by Engineer Kenneth Stapleton on the water situation.

152 Day Supply Of Water
Stapleton estimated the present available supply at 610 million gallons, an ample supply for 152 days. In view of the 170 completion date in contracts with the pipe line contractors, the council decided to continue unhampered use of water for another 30 days.

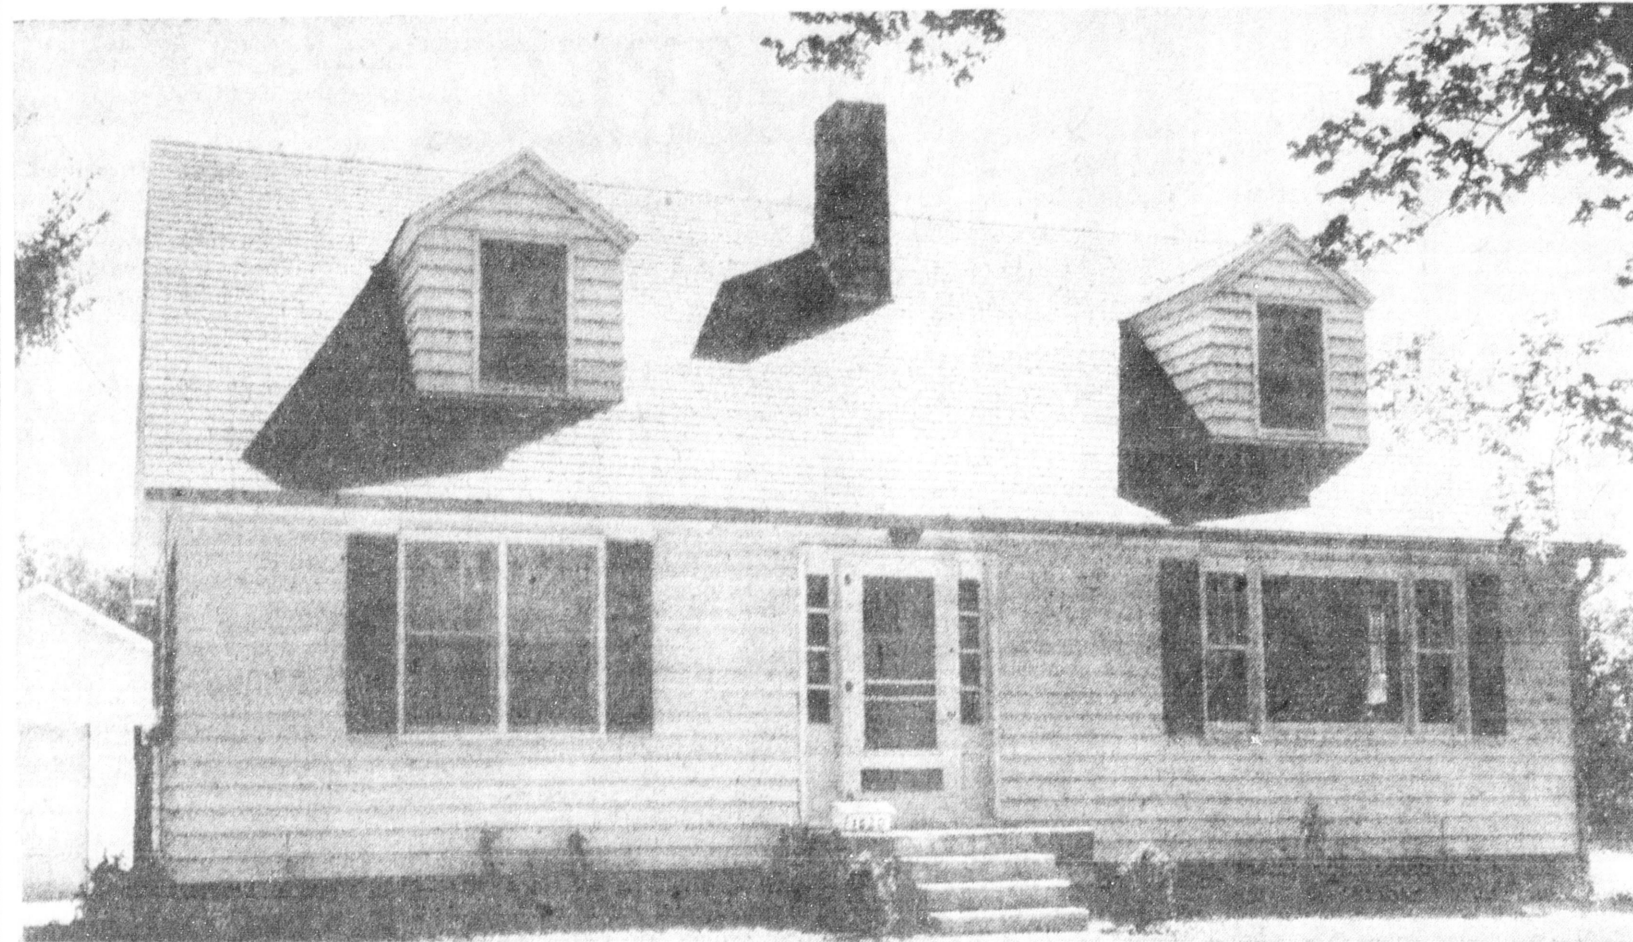

The engineer said Lake Jacksonville is 15 feet, one-half inch below the spillway, but that about 340 million gallons can be released into the channel and delivered to Lake Mauvalsterre. The lake nearest the city, Lake Mauvalsterre, is now 19½ inches below the flashboards on the dam, and holds 370 million gallons. Another 24 million is in Morran Lake. The engineer's estimate of 610 million gallons available for use was made after certain deductions.

It was reported that Price Brothers Co. of Dayton, Ohio, successful bidder for the pipe contract, is already on the job. The Torson Co. of Kansas City Mo., which will lay the pipe, is expected to move machinery to the right-of-way today. The Rainey Water Methods Co., Columbus, Ohio, which will build the well in the gravel beds at Naples, and the Caldwell Engineering Co., Jacksonville, which will construct the pumping station and equipment are preparing to begin activities before the last of this month.

The council adjourned until 7:30 o'clock this evening when it will hold a brief meeting, at which the bond sale is expected to be given formal approval.

Lightning Hits Home, Blows Out Several Fuses

A bolt of lightning struck the home of Anna M. Scheferkort, 329 West Chambers street, during a hard rain storm Sunday evening, momentarily stunning residents of the home and knocking out the electrical system.

Police reported that the owner of the home and her sister were slightly stunned, but were able to join in an inspection of the damage.

The bolt broke a light bulb in the kitchen as it coursed into the house, also blowing out five fuses in the fuse box.

Lightning is believed to have struck the TV aerial on the Scheferkort home during a rain storm. A total rainfall of 1.03 inches was recorded at the WLDS transmitter, and .86 inch was recorded at the Norbury Senatorium weather station.

Coroner's Jury Makes 4 Recommendations For Safety Of Boaters

Four recommendations for the safety of boat operators and passengers were made by a Morgan county coroner's jury Sunday night when it returned a verdict of "accidental death by drowning" in the death of Charles Robert Ballard, 13 year old Jacksonville boy.

After determining the cause of death, the jury recommended that:

1. The lake area be posted with rules of water safety, and that boat owners and operators be responsible.

2. Every person participating in boating must wear life preservers while in boats.

3. The city and county make available a boat for use of the fire department in any future rescue work.

4. Life savers be made available where boats are launched.

Coroner William H. Hawks conducted an inquest in the Morgan county circuit court room. Witnesses included Mr. and Mrs. James Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chute, Harry Meyers, Bobbie Harrell, and J. J. Sullivan.

The Ballard boy lost his life on the evening of Sept. 14 when a group went for a ride on Lake Mauvalsterre during a Sunday School outing. The boat overturned, throwing the men and boys into the water.

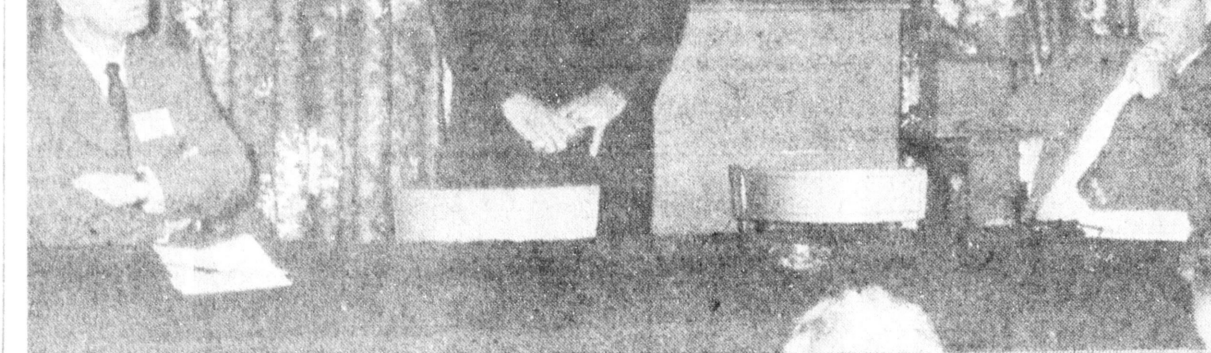

Members of the coroner's jury were Mose Wicks, foreman; Harold H. Bourr, James Barber, Ray Gardner, Kenneth Price, and Charles Warwar.

Short-hand testimony was taken by Mrs. Vicky Seeman.

SMOKE IN CAFE CAUSED BY BELT ON MOTOR

Firemen made a run at 11:35 o'clock Sunday night to the Hamilton Cafe on East State street, where pedestrians on the street reported seeing smoke. The trouble was caused by the belt on a motor. Damage was restricted to the belt.

SIGN MEN HEAR BLUE BALLOT PLEA

Representative Hugh Green was the principal speaker Monday at the morning session of the Outdoor Advertising Association of Illinois convention now in progress at the Dunlap Hotel.

At right is Henry Carlson, Jr., Rock Island, who responded to Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland's official welcome to the city, at left, is G. H. Lindstromberg, Jacksonville.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE HUGH GREEN delivered the principal address at the 63rd annual convention of the Outdoor Advertising Association of Illinois at the Monday morning session held at the Dunlap Hotel. He spoke on the subject "Know your Legislators."

Representative Green prefaced his remarks by quoting from former President Garfield, as follows:

"The state government touches the citizen and his interests 20 times where the national government touches him once. For the peace of our streets and the health of our cities; for the administration of justice in nearly all that relates to the security of person and property, and the punishment of crime; for the education of our children, and the care of unfortunate and dependent citizens; for the collection and assessment of much of the larger portion of our direct taxes, and for the proper expenditure of the same—for all this, and much more, we depend upon the honesty and wisdom of our General Assembly and not upon the Congress at Washington."

Trend Reversed
The speaker said that, although there has been a tendency to greater centralization in government, the trend now appears to be in the opposite direction and he stated that this makes it more important for each person to be acquainted with the members of the state legislature, serving the district in which the particular person votes.

Green pointed out that at each session of the General Assembly some 1500 to 200 bills are introduced and the same cover a very wide range of subjects, including agriculture, appropriations, banks and building and loans, education, elections, industry and labor, insurance, liquor regulation, military affairs, motor vehicles, municipalities, public health, public utilities, revenue, roads and bridges and re-apportionment.

Representative Green discussed the subject of re-apportionment because the matter will come before the voters in November. He pointed out that the State of Illinois has not been re-apportioned, so far as state senators and representatives are concerned, since 1901 and explained that if the state were divided up into districts, strictly according to population, Cook County would gain control of both the Senate and House of Representatives. He said that the legislature has never been willing to submit the question to the people so long as Cook County has a large percentage of the population.

Along Federal Lines

The speaker said that, although various governors have been in favor of re-apportionment, no plan acceptable to the General Assembly had been submitted until Governor Stratton came fourth with the proposal to submit to the people an amendment of the state constitution providing for re-apportionment along the line of the national government. Such an amendment will be up for consideration in November. The amendment authorizes re-apportionment according to population so far as the House of Representatives is concerned but, following the federal plan, provides that senators shall be determined by area, the result of the whole plan being that downstate would always have 34 senators as compared with 18 from Chicago and 6 from the Cook County territory outside of Chicago. As to the House of Representatives, downstate would have 30 districts with 23 from Chicago and 7 from suburban territory.

Green stated that this plan is a compromise which has been worked out and said that it gives effect to increases in population in the same manner that the United States Constitution provides such representation. He said that the United States Constitution at the time that it was adopted, was criticized because it allowed the smallest States to have as many senators as the largest but he pointed out that the plan has worked and that under such a plan this nation has grown great and influential. He stated that if the plan is adopted in Illinois, as a compromise between the city and rural people he believes that it will be a step in the right direction.
